

ISO 27001 CERTIFICATION

Prevent data security threats and ensure you have the competitive edge with ISO 27001:2005.

It is essential that company data is protected, not only to protect the future of your systems, but also to protect customer information, that has been entrusted to you. This requires a holistic approach covering areas such as IT Security, physical security and staff policy & procedures. ISO 27001 is the formal standard against which organisations seek independent certification of all their Information Security Management Systems.

ISO 27001 helps you to

- Formulate security requirements & objectives
- Ensure that security risks are cost-effectively managed
- Ensure compliance with laws and regulations
- Provide assurance about information protection to customers
- Ensure piece of mind that your system is compliant and secure

ISO 27001 helps protect against

- Customer Information leakage
- Virus & hacker attacks
- Incompatible software conflicts
- Failure to back up systems
- Loss or theft of unencrypted backups
- Internal security breaches
- Loss of information resulting from staff turnover
- System downtime
